MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

The following dispatch from Marilyn Routson, together with Ron's answer, might be found interesting and useful by anyone who is giving security checks:

On these security checks so far, everyone has reacted to the question, "Are you a Communist?"

It consistently takes a while to cool this off and is actually what is responsible for the checks taking so long.

There is charge on the question and on the subject - also some confusion on what communism is. In cooling it off, charge comes off and the guy being checked feels like he's had a session.

I am wondering what the heck goes - is it a result of so much communism in U.S. - our resisting it so much - or that there is some mockery of Scientology in communism, - or what is it? That communism is so opposite in aim to what we are doing?

Anyhow, there is a consistent reaction (lie reaction - that is, it drops after the person being checked answers NO to the question). In exploring it I find it cools on getting what communism is unconfused, finding incidents where they discussed it with someone, where they investigated it, - also exploring for considerations of fear for Scientology from communism, i.e., one person was afraid the govt. would brand us as commies in a total frame type situation. It was sitting there as an unknown fear.

Anyhow, people checked are feeling relieved after it is cooled.

Ron's answer was:

Communism is a bank philosophy A = A = A and is a criminal concept (there is no personal havingness). Hence it latches on to bank easily.

Here are some more poems from Julian Cooper:

GENTLE READER

Put down that H Bomb.
Put it down!
Thank you.
And the other one.
Yes, that one.
On the table.
Thank you.
Don't move the Bombs.
Don't touch them.
Keep them from going away.
From going away.
That includes going off.
That's right, off.
Thank you.
Thank you, gentle reader.

TWO GODS

Oh sacred god of trust
The name they give to you is : friend
Your affinity must
Have no end.

Oh sacred god of aid
The name they give to you is : friend.
Unafraid.
Infinite help to lend.

A THETAN'S PRIVILEGE

To say:
This was --
But it is not, today.

CO-AUDITING

Such fun!
He boasts about his overt acts in the morning.
I boast about my overt acts in the afternoon.

He has wiped out half a universe?
That's nothing:
I have wiped out 5 universes!

He has turned people into slaves?
That's nothing:
I have turned slaves into machines!

He has been a coward and let himself be killed?
That's nothing:
I was the executioner!

Co-auditing: such fun!
He boasts about his overt acts in the morning.
I boast about my overt acts in the afternoon.

AFTER THE EXPLOSION

To find the nuclear engineer
Who asked me to pull the handle towards me
And say: "I told you so".

WHAT COULD YOU CONFRONT?

The sea, the sea
I could confront the sea:
The waves going up in winter
Over the railings of the promenade,
Or the waves going up
Over the rail of a liner,
Or the waves going up over the mast
Of a galleon that sank
Hundreds of years ago.

SEEN AUDITING A GIRL

Real as a figure painted on a vase,
And yet it was a picture of the mind:
Hair piled up on top of the head,
An expression of pained surprise
Carried intact through the centuries --
A facsimile of ancient Greece.

SESSION

As I kept running her on overt/withhold
And she was looking more and more at the engram
She kept repeating in a gentle voice
"But it makes me ever so annoyed,
But it makes me ever so annoyed..."

MOMENT OF TRUTH

Had the needle of the E-meter
Tied itself in knots
And wandered off under the table
She could not have registered more indignation

Than when I asked:
"What have you done to an unhappy person?"

MEXICAN TRIO WITH GUITARS

Their songs went on and on
 Repeating that their love was gone,
 And though the music sounded gay
 All that the verses seemed to say
 Was 'now that our love is finished
 We might as well be dead",
 And I began to wonder, then:
"What have you done to women?"
 And I felt tempted, if the truth be told
 To go and run them on overt/withhold.

ODE DEDICATED TO THE THINGS WE ARE NOT LOOKING AT

Overt acts against Scientology
 Overt acts against humanity

How can one know you are there
 And not look?

NEW VERSION OF MASSACHUSETTS INCIDENT

Lizzie Borden's overt axe
 Hit her victim forty whacks.
 When she saw what she had done
 Her motivator gave her forty-one.

BITTER COMMENTS ON MAN AS HE IS

Licence his credulity
 And he will worship what he cannot see,
 And sacrifice a lamb
 On the alter-ismness of an engram,
 Or create a god
 From the mud
 Of which he thinks he's made,
 And furthermore he will insist the god must be obeyed.
 He will ignore what observation shows
 In a willing suspension of what he knows,
 And hang for the responsibility he will not take --
 Instead of a rope
 A horoscope
 About his neck;
 Or drown diving for secrets in a book
 When the remedy is : to look
 And look again, and look again, and look.

THE PRE-CLEAR: STATE OF CASE

Deep in a pit among the scorpions,
 The beetles, spiders, crabs and rattlesnakes,
 Death rays, rockets, axes, clubs and guns;
 Drowning in blood with every breath he takes;
 Hoping for help and knowing it is vain,
 Too used to force, unable to persuade,
 Knowing that talk will only bring him pain,
 And that to live it's better to be dead,
 He fumbles through a world he has destroyed,
 A guilty non-spectator of his acts --
 (Crimes? -- the very thought! -- he'd get annoyed
 If one were to accuse him with the facts...)
 But to have him look and make him see what's there
 Moves him from his body, the pre- from the pre-clear.

SIMPLE PLENTY

From 3 colours
 Many paintings.

From 26 letters
 Many poems.

From 8 notes
 Many songs.

From 57 Axioms
 Many clears.

PLEASURE

As the pc's havingness went up and up
To see the sky with clouds
Reflected in his eyes.

Here are three dispatches received from Smokey Brand, staff member in Washington, D.C.:

This is in regards to the person mentioned in the article "Epitaph" on page 5 of ABILITY. The grandmother of this person had written to the Central Org. with an order for books. She also asked for the address of any Scientologists in her area. As I was taking the carbon of the answering letter to the Central Files, I noticed that the address was of a town with which I am quite familiar, and I also noticed the question about Scientologists in her area had not been answered. I pulled the letter from the basket and took it to my desk for answering. I explained to her my connection with the organization and stressed the fact that I was familiar with her city and that I had lived nearby; this to build up ARC. I told her that there was one Scientologist in the capital of her state, but that he had no training since 1954. Then I gave her the address of two franchised auditors who lived not too far away. This woman's grandson immediately contacted these two auditors with the results as given in the ABILITY article. (119)

Now, what I wish to point out is that through answering this one question, we have gained at least two new Scientologists; we have put a person back into the game; and we have gained a very significant win over psychology. We do not know how many people we fail to get into our ranks by failing to answer some question put to us in a letter. This emphasises the necessity of answering EVERY QUESTION we are asked in our correspondence.

Here is the story of a time I took a chance in auditing. I was auditing an educated pre-clear. She was an old time auditor. I was running her on o/ws on "a father".  On the last session of the intensive when I asked for her goals, she said her goal for the session was to be run on o/ws on her partner, another woman. This seemed to me to be an effort to avoid the process on "a father". I told her we were going to run o/ws on "a father". She blew up in a tremendous ARC break. I knew that if this happened there would be no further effective processing for the session. So I took a calculated risk. If I could get some processing in on "a father", there would be some gain over running ARC break for the session. So I started in on o/ws on "a father". The pc was really angry and snapped out all her answers. After about 20 minutes she calmed down and really got some good processing. She finished the intensive in a happy state of mind. She told the Director of Processing that I "just wouldn't let her get off the hook". Just an example of getting away with something. As this was over a year ago, I am not sure whether the terminal was "father" or "a father". For your info.

Recently while talking to Gordon Ball, he told me of hearing a foreign noise in the Graphotype machine. Gordon is no mechanic; but by following the mechanical sequence of the machine, he located the cause of the noise and adjusted the machine. He then exclaimed: "A machine is logical." I looked at this and agreed with him. Later I thought that if a machine is logical, then the corollary of this would be: "Logic is mechanical". Then to attempt to use logic in working with the spirit would be * equivalent to adjust the spirit with a screw driver, a pair of pliers, and a monkey wrench. This last is apparently what the psychiatrists are trying to do with their pre-frontal lobotomies and shock treatment.

(* this should be: equivalent to attempting to adjust.....)

The following account of a successful touch assist was received from an auditor in California:

In May of 1959 our son, who was 18 months old then, climbed into the washbasin and turned the hot water on. He was busy playing there while we were all busy in other parts of the house and yard. He began to cry, and when his sister went to assist him, he has stood in the running hot water and scalded his left foot and leg. By the time I got in the house he had kicked until all the skin was off his left foot and leg up to his diaper.

( this sentence omitted above: She did not like to run this terminal and had tried several times to get off it.)

I took him to our family doctor. The Doctor cleaned and dressed the injury and evaluated that he would most likely need skin grafting around his heel and ankle and that healing would start in about 14 days. So I got on the phone and called a Professional Auditor, who came and administered "touch assists" consisting of about 4 sessions per day for 2 days of about 15 minutes each. After about the second session the child began to use the leg as though the soreness was gone or decreased tremendously - and on the 15th day the bandage was removed with the complete leg healed, and by the 21st day the worst place around the heel and ankle was also healed. There were no scabs and there are only minor scars in the most injured area. The Doctor's report read, "second degree burns, whole of left leg".

We highly respect the Scientology touch assist for minor or major injuries, after first aid has been administered.

Finally we have just heard from Peter Williams, Assoc. Sec. in Melbourne, that the H.A.S.I. there has just had another week of over $1,000 gross income - the sixth week this year.

Congratulations, Melbourne! That's a fine record.
