SUPERVISION DRILLS

S.D.1 - Handling Student Questions

PURPOSE: To train the student Supervisor not to answer Tech questions of the student but only to refer the student to the materials.

POSITION: Student- Supervisor and coach sit facing each other, or Student-Supervisor standing as in front of a group.

TRAINING STRESS:

The coach asks various tech and other questions which a student might ask of a supervisor, and the Student-Supervisor handles Tech only by referring the coach to the materials.

The Student-Supervisor should know his materials well and be able to refer the Coach to specific parts of the materials. The coach flunks the Student-Supervisor for

- 1) Answering any Tech questions by the coach
- 2) Failing to refer the coach to the materials
- 3) Not teaching tough; Q & A

The drill is continued until the Student-Supervisor has no tendency whatever to answer the coach's Tech questions, but only refer coach to the materials.

S.D.2 - Handling misunderstood words or phrases.

PURPOSE: To train the Student-Supervisor to handle misunderstood words or phrases in students.

POSITION: Student-Supervisor and coach seated facing each other across a table, or Student-Supervisor standing.

TRAINING STRESS:

The coach manifests misunderstood word or phrase. The Student-Supervisor

1. Has the coach trace back to where the manifestation started.
2. Has the coach locate the word that was misunderstood.
3. Has the coach look the word up in a dictionary or dianetics list of words defined.
4. If the misunderstood word or phrase manifestation still present, has the student demonstrate the word, phrase or definition, or if necessary locate another misunderstood word or phrase.

Student-Supervisor is flunked for not handling student with misunderstood word, handling some other way than above, lack of smoothness in handling, Q & A, not handling student "Rough".

S.D.3 - Handling enturbulative students.

PURPOSE: To teach the Student-Supervisor to handle enturbulative students.

POSITION: Coach seated, Student-Supervisor standing.

TRAINING STRESS:

The coach acts just as a normal student. He then begins acting as an enturbulative student.

Student-Supervisor handles by

1. Sending to Review (Examiner) only if the coach says he wants a review.
2. Sending coach to Ethics.

Student-Supervisor is flunked for failing to do either of the above, or failing to take action fast enough, Q & A or not handling student rough.
