MECHANICAL UNUSUAL SOLUTIONS

Any person using an unusual solution in the operation or repair of any piece of machinery is guilty of a crime.

Any person seeing or knowing of an unusual solution being used and not reporting it is guilty of a crime.

Reports will be made on a Knowledge Report basis to the MAA via the Captain or Executive Director.

These standard solutions exist:

1. When a piece of machinery is not running properly it is shut down NOW NOW NOW and repaired.
2. A piece of machinery non-operative is not NOT NOT to be operated until repaired.
3. Standard actions like changing oil, keeping wrenches out of the crankcase, . . . giving an engine fuel, etc. will assure proper operation.

Unusual solutions do not exist and these are examples of crimes:

1. Starting an engine up after it has been broken down or not operating properly to "see what's wrong with it".
2. Using a piece of machinery that is not in operational condition, because the job needs to get done, and it won't hurt it - much.
3. Not changing oil because "the engine is old anyway".

Please, please, please get this. "It's always" a gross error, a mechanical G/A/E like "it isn't plugged in", that causes machinery to fail. Where crimes of this nature occur, it will be assumed that sabotage is intended and intentional.
