RELIGIOUS IMAGE: CONTRACTS

All contracts used by any Church or Mission for services given by that Church or Mission must reflect the religious nature of the service being delivered, by ensuring that the following statements are included in every contract for training or processing:

1. Scientology is a spiritual and religious guide intended to make persons more aware of themselves as spiritual beings and not treating or diagnosing human ailments of body or mind nor engaging in teaching or practicing of the medical arts or sciences.
2. Dianetics is a technology of pastoral counselling with the purpose of handling the effect of the spirit on the body and not engaged in treating or practicing of the medical arts or sciences but is a religious guide intended to assist persons to increase their well-being and happiness.
3. The Hubbard Electrometer, used in the Church Confessional by authorized Ministers or theological students, is a religious artifact which assists the Minister in locating areas of spiritual unrest or travail. It is not intended, effective, or ever to be used for attempted diagnosis, treatment, or prevention of any disease.
4. Such contracts must also contain wording to the effect that the person has read and understood them and understands them to be Church policy that may not be modified by other writings, books, advertisements, or implied or stated persuasions or promises or offerings to the contrary by anyone.
5. Such contracts must be dated, signed, and witnessed.
6. All contract originals must be preserved as valuable documents.
