INITIATIVE

Where personal pride, group pride and initiative are lacking, ethics has to be used as a substitute.

Groups never seem to realize that their hard times are brought on by failures in responsibility and sharing the load.

In fact all slavery is the consequence of irresponsibility and failure to do one's job.

There is ample reward in the satisfaction of doing one's job and being part of a self-respecting group.

Riches and power spring from that base.

Until one at least gets up to the level of a self-respecting group with high standards, one can look forward only to poverty and hard times.

One has an org to the degree he or she contributes to its perfection by showing initiative and handling what comes up. Individual initiative, not orders, makes a true group.

Start adding your job up to maximum on it and show initiative. Anyone showing initiative is liable to get into an occasional argument. The willingness to accept that too is all part of initiative. One can't be totally safe in this universe. But one can at least be effective! It's your world, your Scientology and your org too you know.
