POSTING

I am finding that persons not grooved in on new posts before being asked to act have a high confusion level which is hard on the area. Est Os should groove people in hard on the duties and existing scene and if the person is too confused or out-ethics, alert HCO and not place them.

A person needs a day or two to find his feet on the new ground before acting or he'll be nervous and uncertain.

We want certain and competent people on post.
